

Table of Contents

| | |
|--|-----|
| Preface | 7 |
| Introduction | 9 |
| "Change Mummified": Historical Times Media Times | 15 |
| Philip Rosen | |
| The Long Form in Early Cinema: Framing the Experience | 47 |
| Heide Schlupmann | |
| The Cinematic Remake: Repetition, Serialization and Spectacle | 55 |
| Anat Zanger | |
| "Visconti's "German Trilogy" and Seriality | 73 |
| Miche'le Lagny | |
| A Letter from Mother in The Land of Tears: The Shameful Origin of The Nation-State | 83 |
| Judd Ne'eman | |
| Film Genres as Syndromes: The Genre of Siege | 97 |
| Nitzan Ben-Shaul | |
| Regimes of Longing: Staggered Narration and the Persistence of Vision | 121 |
| Linda Dittmar | |
| Soap Opera, Globalization and National Culture | 143 |
| Tomas A. Lopez-Pumarejo | |
| Performativity, Reiteration and Ideology in the Open Serials | 161 |
| Sandra Meiri | |
| Seeing the Personal: Two Israeli Masterpieces | 173 |
| Owen Shapiro | |
| Pedestrian Rhythms: The Everyday in the Diary of David Perlov | 193 |
| Meir Joel Wigoder | |
| Distancing the Frame | 213 |
| Orly Lubin | |

Gender and Nationality in the New Israeli Cinema 227

Nurith Gertz

Images of Destruction/Destruction of Images 247

Regine-Mihal Friedman

Jonah is 25 at Last 257

Dudley Andrew